

HE WAS AN ORPHAN.

And Was Left to Perish in the Flames.
A Terrible Fire in Allegheny.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Jan. 27.—A fire in a row of tenement houses on East Ohio street, Allegheny, last night, narrowly escaped resulting in an awful disaster. As it was, one boy was burned to death and two of the houses were completely destroyed. Near Spring Garden avenue there is a row of six three-story frame tenements, owned by Christian Roerick and occupied by twenty families, mostly Hungarians.

About 10:30 o'clock last night flames were seen issuing from the bakery of Leopold Zoch, situated on the first floor of one of the houses. An alarm was sounded, but before the department arrived the flames had spread to Mrs. Noonan's notion store adjoining and were creeping toward the upper floors. Nearly all of the occupants had retired for the night, but they were quickly aroused, and a grand rush for the street followed. Many of the women and children were cut off by the flames and were taken from the windows by the firemen. They were forced to leave in their night clothes, and great suffering was experienced from the intense cold. Finally all the occupants, it was believed, were rescued, but this morning the body of young Weiss was found in the ruins. He was an orphan, and in the excitement was forgotten. The fire was extinguished about midnight, after two of the houses had been gutted. The others were badly damaged and the half clothed and frozen occupants returned for the night. The families who were burned out were cared for by the neighbors and this morning were comfortably clothed by donations from the more fortunate one. The cause of the fire is not known. The loss will not exceed $5,000.

RECOVERED JUDGMENT.

The Noted Aspen Mine Suit Settled—$125,000,000 Involved.

DENVER, COLO., January 27.—Judge A. W. Rucker has recovered judgment in the district court against Harvey Young, J. B. Wheeler, of New York, and others for a sixth interest in the famous Aspen mine, at Aspen, Colo., and a sixth of the proceeds of that mine since November, 1872, amounting to over $12,000,000. On October 12, 1884, Rucker received from Harvey Young an option for a sixth interest in the mine. The option was for $15,000, and upon the payment of that sum by Rucker in thirty days Young was to deed him the interest in question. Rucker claims that on November 19, 1884, and before his option expired, he tendered Young $15,000,000 and demanded his deed, which Young refused to make; that within thirty days Young deeded the interest to J. B. Wheeler, which Wheeler did not know of the existence of the option and Rucker's offer to perform, and Young's refusal, but it was through his influence that Young failed to keep his contract.

An old lady boarded B. & O. train No. 4 Tuesday afternoon at Riverview. The train started off while she was still on the steps, causing her to lose her balance, and she would certainly have fallen under the wheels but for the timely help of Robert Humphreys, who was standing on the platform. He caught her and lifted her safely in the car. But for this she would have been badly hurt and probably killed.

All Sorts of Local News and Gossip from the Glass City.

The first charter of the First National bank, covering a period of twenty years, expired yesterday and the bank started off under the extension for twenty years more. Time and its mutations have dealt kindly with the officers of this bank as the following list will show: Presidents—Mr. A. W. Anderson, elected February 11, 1872; Mr. John T. Mercer, elected October 28, 1878. Cashiers—Mr. A. P. Tallman, elected February 11, 1872. Assistant Cashiers—Mr. James T. Kelly, elected February 25, 1888. Tellers and Bookkeepers—C. C. Kelly, elected February 11, 1872, resigned December 1, 1874; J. T. Kelly, elected December 1, 1874; W. J. Morrison, elected September 1, 1878; H. E. Randolph, elected May, 1881, resigned October, 1889; J. Frank Mellott, elected March, 1888; J. W. Howell, elected October, 1889; David Walker, elected November, 1889. The first board of directors consisted of Messrs. A. W. Anderson, A. O. Mellott, Isaac Booth, John T. Mercer, C. C. Kelly, M. W. Jenkins and A. P. Tallman. Of these, A. W. Anderson and M. W. Jenkins died, and their places were filled by Messrs. Herman Roemer and James Colsey. Messrs. Isaac Booth and C. C. Kelly resigned and their places were filled by Messrs. Jacob Maser and James B. Gorrell. The present board, elected January 12, consists of A. O. Mellott, H. Roemer, A. P. Tallman, James T. Kelly and William Harvey, but at this time they have not organized. Colonel J. T. Mercer, however, resigned the presidency and declined re-election as a director and it is quite probable Mr. A. P. Tallman will be chosen president, with active duties, and Mr. James T. Kelly advanced to the cashiership.
